9th Grade BCTC Presentation and Tours

Ninth grade students will attend a Berks Career and Technology Center assembly on September 15 to learn about BCTC and its programs. Students will have the opportunity to sign up for a tour at one of the two BCTC campuses. Tours will be held on October 19 & October 20 during the school day. Permission slips for the tours are due by October 7, 2022. BCTC applications will be available in mid-late October.

As part of the Career Education and Work Standards required by the state of Pennsylvania, ninth graders will research a career and write an essay about their career goals. Students planning to apply to BCTC will write their essay specifically for their program of study at BCTC which will be part of their BCTC applications.

SAT and College Admissions

The COVID-19 pandemic had a major impact on the college admissions process. Many U.S. colleges have made the submission of SAT scores optional in the admissions process or eliminated them. What does that mean for the students who will be applying to colleges this year?

What Does Test Optional Mean?

Students have the option to submit their SAT/ACT scores to the college to be used in the admissions process. At these schools, students will not be penalized for not submitting a score. However, pay close attention of any stipulations. The SAT could be test optional for everyone or only for those with a specific GPA. Some schools may require the SAT for specific programs, but not for all of them. If you submit your scores, they will be used in the admissions process. If you did not score well, you may not want to submit scores.

Although a school may not require SATs for the admissions application, they may still be required for scholarships. Some merit scholarships are based on a student's GPA and SAT scores. Make sure to check with your school if SAT scores are required. At this point, it is wise to take the SAT in case you need it.

Athletes planning to play Division I or II sports MUST take the SAT since it is required for NCAA eligibility.

The SAT will be offered at Tulpehocken in May 2023. To register for a fall date at another school, visit collegeboard.org
